RE: Amazon.Com Services, LLC
Case 10-RC-269250

Dear Mr. Davies:

This letter acknowledges receipt of the Petitioner's January 28, 2021 request for an extension of time to file an opposition to the Employer's Request for Review of the Regional Director's Decision and Direction of Election.

An extension of time to a date certain is not necessary at this point in the proceeding. Section 102.67(c) of the Board's Rules and Regulations provides that a request for review may be filed at any time following a Regional Director's action until 10 business days after a final disposition of the proceeding by the Regional Director. Under subsection (f), the Rules note that any party may file an opposition to a request for review "within 5 business days after the last day on which the request for review must be filed..." (emphasis added). Here, there has been no final disposition of this proceeding; accordingly, there is no due date for a request for review, and thus no date certain for an opposition. Accordingly, the extension of time request is moot, and will not be further considered.

/s/ Leigh A. Reardon
Associate Executive Secretary
